Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Criticism of talent expressed in any of the arts should always be a friendly function. Those who dare greatly to write, to act, to mold, or to paint, are often the most sensitive of human kind. They themselves feel that their goal is far more perfect than they shall be able to attain. The critic may blow too hot or too cold and his frosty disdain or his warm and undeserved praise may warp and ruin the delicate plant struggling upward toward the sun of great achievement.

It was this writer's good fortune some years since to see an English troupe present "The Dover Road" on the Geary stage in San Francisco. An English play in an English setting, written by an English playwright, presented by English actors. It should do a little to banish that age-old American prepossession that English people lack a sense of humor. For "The Dover Road" is subtly humorous throughout and an uproarious comedy in spots.

Now because a good memory makes it possible to place the professional presentation "The Dover Road" by English actors along side the presentation by American amateurs in the Nevada Theatre Tuesday evening, it is very pleasant to record honestly that "The Dover Road" pulls through very handsomely in both presentations. This, in the latter case, is due first to the consummate skill of the playwright, A. A. Milne, second to the coaching of Miss Lois Shaw, who expertly cast the dramatis personae in the roles best suited to their natural abilities, and third to the industry and inherent talent of the caste.

From any standpoint the presentation of "The Dover Road" Tuesday was a very happy event. Mr. Latimer, the gentleman who tampers with the fate of eloping couples, was the very figure for such a role of Olympian benevolence, convincing in his impersonation, determined to do good to others whether they liked it or not. The Englishman who played this role in the play when it first came to the coast, had much of the all-enveloping charity, the gentle guile and the ponderous wiles of Myers Mobley in the part.

Sven Dorf, who played Leonard, the eloping husband, was the typical Englishman, protesting his invaded rights at every turn, even while he enjoys his host's food and drink. In turn he played the arrogant lover, the self-centered egotist, and last, the pampered husband, with an easy transition from one phase to the other, that was hilariously funny.

Nicholas, portrayed by Dick Parsons, had one of the high comedy roles. Nicholas, eloping with Leonard's wife Eustasia, is a much bewildered young man. Subjected to the test of spending a week in the house on "The Dover Road" with his lady love, he developes his natural eccentricities. His infatuation visibly cools as his "soul mate" yearning to administer to any trifling illness displayed, wears badly upon his disillusioned mind. His reaction both to the husband, whom he had intended to wrong, and to his host, M. Latimer, is finally quite friendly, so much so that he and Leonard in amicable partnership steal away for Mediterranean shores, leaving their loves in the House by the Dover Road.

Anne impersonated by Miss Nancy Jones, and Eustasia, wife of Leonard, by Miss Madeline Himes, are the high spirited women the author created. Anne fleeing from the boredom of a drab existence with a self-centered father, Eustasia in quest of a life in which she might lavish her affections upon a man in need of constant ministration, are good types of the wholly modern and yet refined womanhood of either England or America. Their reaction when halted in midflight by the benevolent Mr. Latimer, while wholly different for each woman, is so gradual and yet so natural and, finally, so unexpected, that one is filled with admiration for all component parts that have made this drama complete. that

ART CHAIRMAN AT CIVIC CLUB MONDAY NIGHT

There will be a fine program for the members of the Nevada City Woman's Civic Club at their meeting Monday evening at the Brand Studio at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Charles Elliott, program chairman, has seruced Mrs. Mabel Matzka of Williams as speaker for the evening. Mrs. Matzka is state chairman of art of the Federated Woman's Clubs of California. She has spoken at many of the clubs in this section and besides information on her subject she brings many inspirational values. Mrs. Matzer will bring exhibits to illustrate her talks.

Mrs. Charles Elliott has been requested to sing several selections and has graciously accepted the invitation.

Preceding the program there will be a brief business meeting at which a report of the "Dover Road" will be given.

WORK ON WASHINGTON ROAD GOING FORWARD

Twelve men are engaged in brushing out the right-of-way on the new road to Washington. According to surveys this route is six miles long and will re-route the road to go into Washington from the south down Washington creek, by easy grades, doing away with the present steep narrow grade near the city. A new bull dozer tractor of the county is working on the county road and it is supposed will go on to the new work when this is completed. According to estimates it will take a good many months, to complete the work. P. E. Marshall is engineer on the project. This road is a WPA project.

FOREST SERVICE SUPERVISES XMAS TREE CUTTING

The program of Christmas tree cutting has been practically completed in the Tahoe National Forest and it is estimated 10,000 red, or silver tip firs, were cut. These trees were cut under careful supervision of the forest service and came from Downieville, Webber Lake, Graniteville and Soda Springs. The trees were shipped mostly to the San Francisco and Los Angeles markets.

It has been the policy of the forest service in the past to issue permits to private individuals to cut Christmas trees, but it was decided to discontinue this and allow the Boy Scouts permits to cut trees and sell them in Nevada City and Grass Valley for the holiday trade, and make some money for their organization.

EIGHT YEAR OLD LAD INJURED BY TRUCK

Little eight year old Kenneth Hatch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hatch, of this city, was injured by a truck at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon and rushed to the Nevada City Sanitarium where he was given an anesthetic and injuries treated. He suffered bruises on one leg and on his head, aid although resting easy it is not known how serious his injuries may be.

The child ran behind one truck and a state highway truck coming in the opposite direction was too close to dodge. Though the driver brought the machine to a stop almost at once the child was injured. Although not blamed for the accident, the driver of the truck was completely unnerved for a time. It is not certain whether the truck passed over him or not as witnesses give conflicting stories.

SCOTT GREER IS CONVICTED OF SIMPLE ASSAULT

Scott Greeg of Rice's Crossing on the Yuba river, who shot Joseph Lee, a neighbor, on August 29, as the result of a long smoldering feud, was yesterday convicted of simple assault by a jury in the superior court Judge Raglan Tuttle presiding. He will appear Monday for sentence. Greer has already been in jail three months awaiting trial.

Witnesses testified that Emil Gale, undertaking the job of peace maker between the two old men, Greer being 75 and Lee 64, met a very truculent reception when, at the behest of Greer, he interviewed Lee. The latter picked up a rock and was apparently about to hurl it at Gale, when Greer pulled his revolver and shot Lee in the foot. The bullet entered his instep and lodged under the heel.

The defendant was represented by Attorney H. Ward Sheldon and the prosecution was in the hands of the district attorney, Vernon Stoll. In availing himself of his prerogative to comment upon the facts of the case, as adduced in the testimony, Judge Tuttle called the attention of the jury to testimony of Gale, in which he testified that he did not know Greer was following him, which the court regarded as very unlikely, and to the evidence, showing that Greer had armed himself with his revolver before accompanying Gale on his mission of peace. The judge questioned Greer's testimony to the effect that he had picked up his gun as he left the cabin in order to prevent its being stolen. Among the witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mix and daughter, Manuel and Levi Potts, Frank Miller, deputy sheriff, Dr. A. H. Tickell.

On the day of the shooting, following the arrival of Lee in this city and his treatment for his injury, Deputy Sheriff C. Larsen and Game Warden E. Hiscox went to Rices Crossing and were joined later by Sheriff C. J. Tobiassen and Deputy Sheriff W. Woods. About six o'clock the three men, Gale, Dickinson and Greer were found asleep on the hillside above the road, two miles down the river from the scene of the shooting, all very much under the influence of liquor it is alleged. In their cabin near Rices Crossing were found a 410 and a 12 gauge shotgun. The officers gave the 410 gun to an Apache lad, ward of Greer for whom he is said to receive $15 per month from the government for his education and support. Greer also receives an old age pension of $15 per month. The boy was turned over to the officers who took him to an aunt near Oregon House.

TEACHERS WILL CONVENE IN G. V. FOR INSTITUTE

The Nevada and Sierra county joint teachers institute will be held in Grass Valley next week. Mrs Ella M. Austin, superintendent of Nevada County Schools, has secured some of the most outstanding educators of the state and arranged an unusually fine program for the teachers during institute next week.

Among those who will speak at the institute are: Hon. Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. Lillian B. Hill, Miss Helen Heffernan and Mrs. Gladys L. Potter, state department education; Dr. Harold Hand, Stanford University; Dr. J. Marr Gwinn, San Jose State College; Dr. John Hockett, University of California.

Besides noted state educators, teachers of Sierra and Nevada counties will have a very large part of the program, presenting subjects and methods in which they themselves have been particularly successful. Among them are Mrs. Ella M. Austin, president, ex-officio; Miss Anna Forbes, superintendent of Sierra county schools, H. R. Spiess, G. E. Hofman and H. E. Kjorlie, vice-presidents. Miss Edna Svenson, supervisor, Downieville; Miss Frances Cochrane, Oakland district; Miss Gertrude Goyne, and Mrs. Isabel Hefelfinger, health supervisor, Nevada City; Miss Audrey Anderson, Indian Springs; Harold George, Grass Valley; Leslie Sweeney, and Mrs. Marian Libby, Nevada City, committee on music.

G. T. Ennis, Mrs. Clara A. Weeks, Miss Marian Lothrop, James S. Hennessey, Halbert Sauber, Walter A. Carlson, Mrs. Edna Gottardi, committee on resolutions.

Sessions will begin Monday forenoon and continue through Tuesday lasting until Wednesday afternoon.

There will be 144 teachers in attendance, 106 from Nevada county and thirty from Sierra county. It is expected there will be 150 present at the sessions; about 70 outside educators are expected.

The state department of education at Sacramento has planned the program except the local talent which has been secured by Mrs. Ella M. Austin.

A reception and banquet planned by Grass Valley teachers will be held Monday evening at Bret Harte Inn.

ALL COLLEGE REUNION DINNER FESTIVE AFFAIR

The all college "big game" dinner of Nevada county for 1936 held at the Bret Harte Inn on Wednesday evening was one of those memorable occasions at which 105 alumni of colleges from coast to coast participated in a jolly get-together.

The affair was a seven o'clock dinner meeting followed by dancing.

Judge Raglan Tuttle, president of the Nevada County chapter of the California Alumni association presided and called upon several from various colleges for speeches. Judge George L. Jones, responding, spoke briefly and hopefully of a California victory at tomorrow's game. He also paid tribute to the late Madame Schumann Heink.

Prognosticator "Old Schnozzle" Robert Deward in his response opined that the big game result would be in favor of Stanford, 20 to 14.

Dr. C. W. Chapman and Vera Ingram also responded with enthusiastic and hopeful remarks as to the outcome of the game.

The committee of arrangements for the reunion was composed of Myers Mobley, O. O. McCraney, Vera Ingram and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Biggs. Judge Tuttle expressed appreciation of the group for their work for the success of the reunion.

Following the dinner dancing was enjoyed by the assemblage.

Those who attended were: Vivian K. Billick, Nevada; H. F. Lynn, Stanford; Donald Strandberg, California; Janet Kalenborn, Stanford; F. Farmin, Stanford; John R. Ivey, Dental U. C.; C. W. Chapman, California, Pennsylvania, Jefferson, Helen Chapman, California; Joseph W. Day, California.

R. T. Ingram, California; R. J. Deward, California; Vera Ingram, California; Henry Spiess, Wiliamette, Stanford; Elizabeth Spiess, Oregon State; Vernon Stoll, California; Beatrice Hoge, Nevada; Arthur M. Hoge, Stanford; J. R. C. Mann, Colo. School of Mines; Florence Mann, Nevada; Franklin Tuttle, Stanford; Donna C. Tuttle, College of the Pacific; Pierson Tuttle, College of the Pacific; Ralph George, California; Bill Tamblyn, California; Betty Bettles, California; Estelle Sampson, California; Clare

EMPLOYERS TO RETURN STATEMENTS TO P. O.

The Social ecurity Board of Baltimore, Maryland has requested of all employers that form SS-4 which was mailed by the postmaster on November 16, 1936, be completed and returned to the postmaster by Saturday, November 21. 1936.

Betty Martin West, postmaster, Nevada City, is asking that all employers give immediate attention to the completion and return of these forms.

Miners Employed In County Number 2727

According to the Nugget's monthly survey of mining activity in Nevada county there are now 2727 men employed in this industry. This is slightly less than recorded last month due to the fact that two or three of the smaller operating companies have temporarily suspended work while undergoing reorganization.

The most propitious event of the past month has been the activity of Federal engineers in making borings and surveys for the debris dams on the Yuba and American rivers, and preparations made for such gravel companies as the Ridge Mines and the River Mines along San Juan Ridge to start sluicing as soon as the progress of the dams make the work feasible.

Work has started on the erection of a double drum hoist at the Pennsylvania mine in Brown's Valley and foundations are almost completed for a fifty ton stamp mill. The old stamp mill belonging to the Idaho-Maryland mine, is now being used for a custom mill, to which the Stockton Hill mine trucks from 10 to 15 tons of ore daily. The Ragon mine, on the west slope of Cement Hill is also sending ore to this mill.

Reports received from various active mines follow.

ROSECRANZ PROPERTY

Charles Hopper Brown is in charge of development work at the Rosecranz property south of Grass Valley with Marshall Draper as consulting engineer. Twelve men are employed in lode development.

ALASKA MINE

The crew working in a raise in the old Alaska mine at Pike City for the past several months have started to drift east in the shaft which has been cleaned out for a distance of several hundred feet and kept unwatered. R. C. Eisenhauer mining engineer, is developing the property.

ATLASTA PROPERTY

Drifting continues on the lode vein at the Atlasta mine, an 80 acre property south of Grass Valley. Mr. Griffin is in charge of operations and has four men employed. Mr. Griffin was a business visitor in Nevada City Wednesday.

YELLOW JACKET MINE

Van Warren has several men employed developing the gravel on the Yellow Jacket gravel and quartz property at Forest City. Mr. Dennis Coughlan of Nevada City owns the property which is a mile below Forest on Oregon Creek.

SIXTEEN TO ONE EXTENSION

Superintendent George Hallock of the Sixteen-to-One Extension mine at Alleghany was in Nevada City Wednesday and stated a station which is being cut on the 430 foot level is about complete. Cross cutting to the ledge will start as soon as this is completed. The vein is four feet wide where it was en-

Old World, New World

(Contributed)

With a youthful spirit of energetic enthusiasm that must surprise the disillusioned old world of Europe, delegates from the United States and the twenty other republics of the new world of the two Americas are gathering today in Buenos Aires on the eve of a great conference.

Soon after December 1, when this long-awaited "Inter-American Conference for the Maintenance of Peace" opens, we shall know whether or not the high hopes for its success have been justified.

Even the most dour of skeptics must admit that potentially, at least, it is far more than just another futile gathering of diplomats. Ominous clouds of war over Europe make it more than that. They make it a timely and urgent effort to insure understanding and mutual confidence in this hemisphere, so that the Western World, stronghold of democracy, will be fortified by internal harmony when the storm breaks.

Certainly the conference will face many problems. There will be such differences among the Latin American countries as that which kept Bolivia and Paraguay so long embroiled in the recent Chaco war. There will be the traditional suspicion, although lessened of late, with which our southern neighbors are wont to view our motives. And there will be difficulties in formulating a unified program for keeping out of European wars.

But these problems can be solved, this time, in spite of skeptics who point to seven past Pan American conferences which accomplished virtually nothing. The foreign war threat was not prodding those meetings.

Buenos Aires will bear watching next month. Success there would be the biggest thing in Pan American relations since the Monroe Doctrine, more than a century ago, proclaimed that the United States would tolerate no old-world aggression in the new world of the Americas.

Have You Joined

(Contributed)

Have you joined the Red Cross? There is still time to become one of the thousands to answer the annual roll call this year. It continues until November 26.

Probably few people appreciate, in more than an abstract way, the work of this organization in carrying relief to the victims of disaster. It is highly specialized, scientifically executed work, carried on by experts who know every need of a stricken community. They function with all the speed and clocklike precision of a trained army.

You may have heard that in the past 55 years the Red Cross has functioned at the scenes of 1900 disasters, that its membership includes eleven million person in this country, and that it has expended $109,500,000 in the cause of mercy. You may have heard, and promptly forgot.

But if ever your community is struck by fire, flood, earthquake or any of the cataclysmic forces of nature that dwarf man and leave him helpless, you'll not forget. Your home wiped out, your family separated, your food, clothing and shelter gone—you'd remember the Red Cross workers then.

Why not remember them now, when they're asking your help for others?

THINKING OUT LOUD

is to say, the author, the coach, and the attitude of the cast itself.

The butler, Dominic, who plays a role of solemn and seemly comedy, and able "assist" to Mr. Latimer, was the role of Robert Polglase. His unfailing courtesy and precise manner, his greyed hair and blue and brass uniform, completed an illusion that was most enjoyable. Mrs. Cliff Merriam and Miss Betty Bettles, as maids, Alton Davies and John McMarten, the footmen, whose roles were mute but very telling, complete a very clever caste. It is worth noting and was well worth the doing that these members of the staff of the house on "The Dover Road" were clothed properly in real service uniforms. Nothing so "gives away" an amateur play as amateur costumes.

The play is the first one given under the auspices of the Women's Civic Club in several years. It is to be hoped that with the Nevada Theatre filled to capacity, as it was Tuesday night, and with an audience so appreciative of the caste's excellent performance, and alive to every bit of fun the play contained, that this club will make an effort to present a play every year.

Between acts the student chorus of the high school, directed by Mrs. Marian Libby, sang beautifully. There were part songs and choruses well chosen for their voices and present training. Fifty fresh youthful voices pealing forth in old favorites. It was a charming interlude.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fink, former residents of Nevada City, now of Butte, Montana, are visiting in this city.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 19.—California's credit is better than ever before in its history. This was the statement made by Governor Frank F. Merriam after the state went on a cash basis so far as running expenses are concerned and treasury warrants were re-sold at an all-time record for low interest rates. Merriam authorized Controller Ray L. Riley to set up a $5,000,000 revolving fund in the state treasury from which general fund expenses will be taken. Instead of using a multiplicity of small high interest IOU warrants as in the past, the state will keep up this fund with large blocks of low interest warrants sold monthly. The low interest record was set when the state teachers retirement fund board resold $106,386 in 4 per cent treasury warrants at a premium which reduced the interest to a 6-10th of one per cent.

The state budget for the next two years probably will not contain any recommendations for relief expenditures. Instead, the entire matter of relief will be left up to the legislature when it convenes in January. Several plans for relief administration are being drafted by various agencies.

Incidentally, Harold Pomeroy, state relief administrator, believes the present relief funds, balance of the $48,000,000 appropriated in 1935, will more than carry the SRA through July 1, 1937. He said the case load now stands at 29,500 as compared with 28,000 two months ago and predicts a peak load in December of 35,000.

Farm Notes — Almond growers who are members of the California Almond Growers Exchange this week are receiving checks aggregating $265,000 as a distribution of retains for previous years and a further payment on the 1936 crop. Sacramento and up river warehouses are packed with rice, and mills are on short working schedules as a result of the San Francisco maritime strike. More than 300,000 sacks of rice were in storage in Sacramento. The free farmers' market question was settled by the Sacramento city council when it signed a 10 year lease on a half block area for the market.

Bids for initial construction on Sacramento's $7,000,000 army air repair depot will be opened December 1 and December 14, Major Arthur W. Parker, constructing quartermaster, announced. Four quartermaster buildings, totaling about $100,000 in cost, are to be constructed and two 300 foot wells dug.

Bids for the construction of levees near the Bear river in Yuba county will be opened here December 4, Lieut. Col. L. B. Chambers, United States district engineer, announced.

Congressman Frank H. Buck of Vacaville is being boomed by northern California Democratic leaders as the party's choice for governor in 1938. Buck has just been re-elected for his third term in congress, and the strength he showed in this voting labels him as the outstanding candidate, his supporters claim. Buck's stand on the proposition has not been made public, but he is known to be considering it seriously.

The state fair in 1939 will be the greatest in history, directors of the California Agricultural Society promised at a meeting in Sacramento. They decided that 1939 will be a "California Exposition Year" and pledged cooperation with the Golden Gate International Exposition at San Francisco in bringing visitors to the state that year. The board also changed the dates of the 1937 state fair from September 4 to 13 to Stptember 3 to 12.

A million new trees will be planted in northern California next spring. Seedlings have been ordered from the federal nursery at Susanville and will be planted mostly in the Sugar Hill area of Modoc national forest and in the Burney Springs area of the Lassen preserve. Other plantings will be made in the Plumas and Shasta forests.

Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon of Sacramento has under advisement a test case of the state fair trades practices act. The Sacramento Valley Retail Grocers' Association filed suit to restrain Walter Fong from assertedly selling "leaders" below cost in his Del Paso Heights market.

A concerted effort to forestall removal of the Sacramento Indian agency to San Francisco was started following announcement of the proposed change. Congressman Frank H. Buck wired a vigorous protest to Washington, D. C. against removal of the agency. Te board of directors of the chamber of commerce sent a similar message urging the agency be kept at Sacramento.

FULDA FLAT PORPHYRY DEPOSIT

Charles Parr, mining engineer, and Ferdinand Basler, road contractor, of Sacramento were Nevada City visitors Wednesday. Parr stated that they were enroute to Carpenters Flat or the Fulda Flat district six miles east of Emigrant Gap, where a large porphyry deposit is to be examined. Old workings give promise of good gold recovery. If tests are satisfactory it will be worked by steam shovel method.

It was in the Fulda Flat district that Earl (Bud) Kimball, who was executed for two killings, lived. Mr. Parr stated Kimball attended a session of the mining school in Sacramento when he was there.

James Grimes, mining man of Oakland came up to attend the funeral of his late sister-in-law, Mrs. Maria Grimes, Wednesday. Mr. Grimes will remain for a several day visit.

LAVA CAP MINE

While the long tunnel between the Central and Banned shafts of the Lava Cap mine were connected several weeks ago it is 200 feet above the bottom of the Banner shaft workings. It is connected through a raise and 1200 feet more of the tunnel remains to be driven. A new 1400 cubic foot compressor has just been purchased for the property and construction is progressing on the new 30x40 foot all steel dry house.

HI ASSEMBLY HEARS CONFERENCE STORY

The Nevada City high school student body held an assembly on Friday, November 13.

The main purpose of the assembly was for a pep-rally for the Grass Valley-Nevada City game Saturday. At the assembly, the delegates who went to the Older Boys' Conference on Saturday and Sunday (November 7 and 8) told of different phases of the conference. The speeches were as follows: Ernest Young—"Highlights of the Conference"; Rek Kennedy—"The Hi Y Problems"; Lacy Jones—"Closing Luncheon"; David McCraney — "The Speech Given at the Hi Y Congress by Roy Bursch of Sacramento Hi." Carl Tobiassen—"The Speech given Sunday Morning by Mr. Pearce of Sonora"; Fred Garrison—"Speech given by Dr. Jensen, principal of the Sacramento high school, at the Saturday evening banquet"; and Todd Bonner—"Food". John Harding was chairman of the speeches.

A delegation from Grass Valley Union high school were present and they gave speeches, inviting the students down to the game.

The delegation consisted of Coach Wilson, the student body president, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and Business Manager.

After the speeches by the delegation, the yell leaders for Nevada City: Harleth Brock, Eddie Doolittle and Hal Draper, Jr., led the students in yells. Coach Barron of Nevada City, and Coach Wilson of Grass Valley also gave speeches.

The assembly was closed with the singing of the school song. "High O'er the Mt. Tops." led by Edna Doolittle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pierce, Miss Aileen Lewis and Andy Joe spent Sunday in the Oregon Creek district on a quail hunt.

DETERMINATION OF SEX SUBJECT NEW RESEARCH

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—What appears to be a new approach in the search to discover the mechanism which controls the determination of sex in animals, has been discovered by Dr. A. W. Bellamy, associate professor of zoology on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California. Two species of small subtropical fish, which reach a length of about two inches at maturity, are being used by Dr. Bellamy in his research.

"It appears that I am on the threshold to an investigation which may aid in answering the question of what determines sex." stated Dr. Bellamy. "My investigations, started less than a year ago more or less by accident, have been too brief for me to form an opinion as to the success of the quest. I know that I have a new definite approach to the answer to the puzzle, and I hope that at the outcome I shall be able to state more definitely just what it is within these fishes and perhaps other creatures that determines sex."

Dr. Bellamy is using two species of one genus of fishes. The genus bears the scientific name of "Platypoecilus," a name almost longer than the fish itself, and which means literally "flat fish." The two species are named "maculatus" and "variatus". In variatus the sex-determining factors are in the male; and in maculatus in the female. It is indeed this fortunate finding of two species with opposite types of sex-determining mechanisms and which interbreed freely, that makes the investigations possible. In crossing these species, he has produced fertile hybrids which, when crossed back with one of the two original species, produces nothing but males. Other crosses produce unbalanced sex-ratios, and a few individuals combining characters of both sexes.

The production of offspring all of one sex is not entirely unknown in a few other creatures. Dr. Bellamy said. Up to this time, however, biologists have not had material from nature enabling them to analyze results of crosses involving animals with opposite types of sex-determining mechanisms. This can now be done, and some much-needed information, it is hoped, can now be obtained.

Dr. Bellamy's research field is in genetics, and in investigations of sex determination, and color pattern, inheritance in fishes He came to the university in 1924 from the University of Chicago. He is vice-president of the local chapter of the ociety of Sigma Xi; is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; the American Society of Zoologists, and other scientific societies.

THE BELATED ARRIVAL

When I arrived the skies were blue and tender,
The streams were merry, meadows lush and green;
Bright flowers smiled, fruit ripened in the orchards—
I quite approved each fair, bewildering scene;
And soon I learned of long, long years behind me,
With varying forms of life on land and sea;
But not a thought in those unnumbered aeons
Was given to my destiny or—me!

Now I've been told that first of all a fire mist
Became the nucleus of a world to be,
That tides of heat and cold and unleashed cosmic fury
Prepared the land and formed the primal sea;
Again the ages rolled; and then, belated,
Came the first unkempt, ape like man;
But all the while I was myself excluded
From every part of this stupendous plan.

Great empires rose and fell—I was not needed;
Greece lived for beauty, Rome for fame and power,
England came forth from her obscure beginning
To that rare time when knighthood was in flower;
America unfurled a starry banner,
Strong hands then bore it on from east to west,
Through wildernesses, plains and verdant valleys
To plant it on Sierra's gleaming crest;

So many chapters of earth's history had been written,
So many mighty battles fought and won,
So much of human effort and achievement,
Ere my inspection tour was well begun;
That sometimes, when I've time for meditation,
Considering, as I scan the long ago,
How long and well the world jogged on without me,
I feel completely humbled—don't you know.

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

REMINGTON HILL MINE

Frank Crampton of Santa Monica spent a few days the latter part of last week, superintending a clean-up at the Remington Hill mine, which he is operating, and it is stated a satisfactory recovery was made. A. W. Bierwagen is in charge of operations while Mr. Crampton is recouperating from a severe heart attack. Work was discontinued on the Skeahan mine and the crew is employed at the Remington. Seven men are employed as soon as sufficient rain has fallen more men will be employed.

Daniel and John Mahoney of Spokane, Washington are visiting their native town, French Corral.

"But Reggie . . How can you afford real English Ale in America?"

"I don't . . I simply order ACME Englishtown ALE . . . it Equals Old England's Best!"

Now enjoy America's finest ale . . . with the same cheering goodness as famous English ales! Just one hearty taste, and you'll agree that it's a worthy companion to ACME . . . America's finest beer!

CITY BELLE PROPERTY

A new tunnel has been started on the Carey lot on Grove street by James Allen and associates who took a lease on the Dulac or City Belle property recently. It is in between 40 and 50 feet and will cross through the Red Mens park to contact a new shaft on the City Belle property. Water in the new shaft on the City Belle ground gave trouble in operating and it was decided to run the tunnel to drain and mine ore on the vein.

MINING NEWS

countered in development work. A wet gravel channel, cut into several months ago, holds much promise, but it was decided to explore the vein first and mine the gravel later. The pump continues to handle 150 gallons of water per minute.

GRACEY MINE

Crews working three shifts have sunk over 180 feet in the 430 foot shaft of the Gracey mine located southeast of Nevada City. It is thought the work will be completed in about three weeks and drifting will start.

JIM MINE

Sinking has been completed at the Jim mine and crews are drifting in good ore. Concentrates are being trucked out regularly to the Idaho-Maryland custom mill for gold recovery. Fourteen men are employed. Charles Colombo and sons are operating the property for southern California interests.

PENNSYLVANIA MINE

Excavation isbeing made for a new 50 ton pilot mill at the Pennsylvania mine in Browns Valley which will be used as underground explorations continue. An elevated track is to be built to carry waste to a dump across the county road. A double hoist has been installed in the two-compartment shaft to speed operations. The mine employs 100 men. Ore is being trucked to the North Star Empire mill in Grass Valley for reduction. Plans are for a large mill later on.

SCHEPP MINE

A tunnel is being driven at the Schepp mine at Graniteville and latest reports are that the tunnel is almost in far enough to contact a shaft sunk last year. The 100 foot shaft caved during rainy weather last winter.

DELANEY MINE

Messrs. McCumber and Jack Mauri, who are developing the Delaney property have sunk the shaft 100 feet and plan to sink an additional 200 feet. The property adjoins the Champion group on the west, and good ore has been encountered.

Frank Ghidotti, H. E. Fowler and Paul Falconi motored to Gridley yesterday forenoon and killed their limit of two pheasants each and were home by 11 o'clock.

CLUBS FORMING IN HIGH SCHOOL

(By FRED GARRISON)

On Friday, November 13, the studeents interested in a Nevada City high school dramatics club, met with Miss Jones to plan the necessary elements in a club. As it is impossible to handle a club as large as this one, they decided that, in order to be eligible for membership, tryouts must be held. Each person is required to bring next Wednesday some poem or speech that will illustrate their dramatic ability.

A series of one act plays is to be the club's first attempt.

A number of students in the commercial department, the largest department in school, are planning to organize a commercial club. So far, the attempts to hold meetings have failed, due to the football practice after school, but it is expected that at the meeting today there will be a large attendance.

The plans of the club are not, as yet, known.

STUDENTS WORK FOR BLEACHERS

(By FRED GARRISON)

On Monday, November 16, the students of the commercial department of the high school met for the purpose of organizing a commercial club.

No officers were elected as the main issue before the students was the hot dog sale last Wednesday.

The sale was held on Wednesday and all students enjoyed it immensely. With each hot dog purchased, the student was entitled to free admission to the noon day dance.

At the dance, a loud speaker system was tested. The system was demonstrated through the courtesy of the Harmony Shop in Grass Valley.

The proceeds of the sale and dance were donated by the club to the bleacher fund, started in order to have bleacher seats on the football field.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED

The Nevada City fire department was called yesterday morning to extinguish a rubbish fire that had spread to nearby grass, between the Dave Waite home and the Netz quarry. The fire made quite a blaze for a few minutes before being brought under control.

HIGHWAY PATROL BROADCASTING PROVES USEFUL

The short wave broadcasting station at the California highway patrol headquarters, placed there through the public spirited donation of Errol MacBoyle and Dr. Carl P. Jones, is proving its great usefulness. A receiving set has been placed on the car of Chief of Police Robson, three are to be placed on cars of Sheriff Tobiassen and deputies, and it is understood that the forest service will equip several of its cars with receivers.

Chief Robson, describing how well the equipment works, reports that on Hallowe'en he cruised about the city and vicinity practically the entire night. Before midnight the first call came in. A woman residing in the ouskirts of the city telephoned to the city hall that a gang of boys were tearing down her fence. One of the city councilmen immediately telephoned the broadcasting station in highway patrol office, which sent out a call to the Nevada City chief of police. His receiving set on his car directed exactly where to go, only a few blocks away from the point where he received the message, and he caught young vandals in the very act of tearing down the fence. He ordered them to repair the damage done and stated that any further depredations would result in their arrest. These Hallowe'en pranksters were on their good behavior for the rest of the night.

On the same evening he was directed out on one of the roads leading into the city, to pick up a drunk who was causing a considerable disturbance. He phoned the sheriff's office to have doors opened, went out and picked up his man and had him lodged in jail in a jiffy.

GOOD VALUES IN REMINGTON HILL

Frank A. Crampton has returned to Los Angeles after a visit of several days at the mine at Remington Hill. Recent work on hitherto undeveloped portions of the property have disclosed splendid values, Crampton reports. Seven men are now employed and a larger crew will be put on as soon as there is sufficient water for sluicing.

Recent work has been on the Democrat mine, which is a part of the holdings at Remington Hill. The group comprises the Skeahan, Democrat and Remington Mines and the two last named have recently been purchased from the owners by the firm of Crampton and Crampton which was established in 1910 by Crampton and his brother. The company is incorporated in California.

During the past six years Frank Crampton has been in charge of the mine for various interests and leasors, the last operator being Lawrence Barker of the large Barker Bros. furniture store in Los Angeles.

A. W. Bierwagen is superintendent at the mine and is in direct charge while Crampton is away. Bierwagen has also been installing equipment at the Delia Mine for the present operators.

CIVIC CLUB MEMBERS NOTICE

All club members who have not done so please return tickets and money to Mrs. James Penrose before ten o'clock this morning as there will be an executive meeting at ten o'clock today to complete the business of "The Dover Road" so as to have a report ready for Monday's meeting.

SHORT WAVE RADIATION MAY KILL BUG PESTS

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 19.—The possibilities of short-wave radiation in the destruction of agricultural insect pests, bacteria, yeasts and fungi, are being appreciated and developed by science, Dean C. B. Hutchison of the University of California College of Agriculture said in a paper read today before the annual meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges of the United States in Houston, Texas.

"As yet there are no large scale practical applications," Dean Hutchison said, "but I have faith enough in our experimental physicists associated with trained biologists that we shall yet see our houses freed of termites, our canned products sterilized against micro-organisms and our packaged foods protected from insect devastators by the simple exposure to lethal rays.

"The use of monochromatic light which lures destructive insects to their death on electrified barriers, while beneficial insects are not attracted, and at the same time avoids the problem of poison spray residues, is an actual accomplishment that a few years ago seemed unattainable. Field approximations of laboratory trials with neon lights of the so-called 'mid-night blue' shade, of which approximately 80 per cent of the rays emitted lie in the narrow range between 4200-4350 angstrom units, have cut down infestations of the artichoke plume moth from 25 to less than 5 per cent. The ravages of the grape leafhopper are no longer feared in the vineyards of California where similar lights are slightly greater intensity have been installed."

Much remains to be done in virtually every field of agricultural research, Dean Hutchison stated. Pest control as a part of actual plant nutrition, improved animal breeding procedures and a general expansion of the social sciences in their relation to the land, are a few of the possibilities requiring deep and profound study. Philosophy, history, psychology, anthropology and their various sister sciences, which now have a preponderantly urban application, can likewise be made to serve agriculture, he said.

MAP OF WASHINGTON RD. PRESENTED TO C. OF C.

Vice-President Charles W. Leiter presided at the chamber of commerce meeting Monday night in the absence of President Fred Conner who is ill.

John Fortier, W. F. Roddy and W. A. Carlson, Ward Sheldon and Dr. W. Reeder were appointed as a committee of investigation as to the feasibility and possibility of purchase by the county of the Daniel property at the corner of Pine and Commercial streets. It is proposed to purchase the building and move it, then use the site in widening the approach to the county court house. The present approach is very inadequate for the traffic.

H. E. Kjorlie, Judge Raglan Tuttle, H. M. Leete, and W. F. Roddy were appointed on a committee to report on the Community Chest plan for Nevada City.

A committee of three will be appointed to cooperate with the Veterans of Foreign Wars for a dance on December 12 for the purpose of raising funds to buy a tuba horn for the Nevada City high school orchestra.

Engineer Marshall presented a map showing the route for the new road from the Junction on the Tahoe Ukiah highway to Washington. The map is on file at the chamber of commerce and may be inspected.

COURT CALENDAR

The following matters will be heard in the superior court this morning by Judge Raglan Tuttle:

Estate of Wm. J. Scandling. Final account and petition for distribution.

Estate of Annie R. Bqrne. Deceased. Petition for probate of will.

Nunnelly vs. Adams. Motion.

Estate of Martha Harris, deceased. Petition for confirmation of sale of real estate.

PROUSE MARKET INSTALLS FINE REFRIGERATOR

A great, gleaming white refrigerator room for the cool, sanitary storage of bacon, luncheon meats, cheese, milk and vegetables in large quantities has just been completed at the Prouse Drive-In Market on the Nevada City Grass Valley highway. The refrigerator and a Dayton Mistor, which keeps vegetables fresh and crisp by wafting a fine misty spray over them, make the Prouse Market dispensers of food that is always fresh and fit, for careful buyers. Prouse's hours are such that any housewife can find time in her schedule to drop in, daily between 7 a. m. and 8 p. m., on Saturdays until 9, and on Sundays, too. A convenient large parking lot in front of the store, and immediately off of the highway make it easy for drivers to stop in and inspect the fine new cooling plant.

SPEAKER AND PROGRAM AT P. T. A. MEETING

Tonight is the occasion at which the Parent Teachers Association will hold an open meeting in the parlors of the Methodist church. The P. T. A. decided to have an open meeting because of the prominence of the speaker, Miss Maud Murchie, formerly of Nevada City. Miss Murchie is head of State Home Economics Department and is well known in Nevada City having many friends and relatives in this city.

Tonight's meeting will begin at eight o'clock and the public is invited to attend. Besides Miss Murchie's talk there will be a musical program, consisting of a cornet solo by Tom Rickard, vocal selections by Mrs. Charles Elliott and book reviews by eighth grade pupils.

Mrs. E. T. Pierce is program chairman of the P. T. A. and Mrs. E. T. Bonner is club president.

This being National Book Week, the Washington school students will have a book exhibit in the Methodist parlors and visitors are invited to inspect them before and after tonight's meeting. There will be books from the school library and workbooks made by the pupils with are covers.

EMIL BASSO LAID TO REST

Funeral services for the late Emil E. Basso were held at the Holmes Funeral Home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Father O'Reilly of St. Canice Catholic church officiated.

WALNUTS IN CROP

The crop of a pheasant, killed in the Gridley district, during the past week end, revealed six halves of hulled English walnuts, and black seeds. The bird had cracked the nuts and swallowed the halves, their beaks are strong enough to break the shells.

ELKS ENJOY RAVIOLAS

Raviolas and chicken prepared by Mrs. Zanocco made a big hit at the Elks lodge at their regular semi-monthly dinner last dinner.

Football was the theme of the evening and swift arguments made a lively evening. A large representation from the local lodge will go to the big game at Berkeley tomorrow.

BOYS TENNIS TOURNEY STARTED

A boys tennis tournament has been started in the high school to compete with the winners of the girls' tournament, which is about finished. Many boys have signed up and it is expected that a real tough competition will be played.

FUNERAL SERVICES IN SACRAMENTO

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the Galick undertaking parlors in Sacramento for the late Raymond Peterson who passed away in Sacramento Monday.

Mr. Peterson, a former Nevada City resident is a relative of Miss Elizabeth Peterson of the Nevada City Sanitarium and of Mrs. J. C. Sheemer of this city.

A Glimpse of Building Activity

Vol. 1. NOVEMBER 20, 1936. No. 48.

Practically any desired texture and color can be obtained with the use of the modern wallboards now offered to the builder and home owner. Plasterboard, Celotex, 3 ply fir board and a number of other boards will please any taste. We are prepared to show you samples from our stock and quote you prices on many of these.

A new home for Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Ostrom is being completed on the lot on Sacramento street adjacent to their service station. Contractor Curley Stephens is completing this home for the owners.

The weather is still favoring you if you have not yet attended to your roof for the winter. Our stock of shingles, shakes, composition roofing and shingles and other materials for taking care of your roof, is complete.

The new Penrose home on upper Pine street is being rapidly completed by Contractor Bob Steger. Bestile is being installed in the bathroom and the interior painting is under way.

Notice all of the announcements of wage raises in the large eastern plants. This means rising prices in time in some of the materials used in construction. What is a better investment in these circumstances than ownership of your own home? Let us help you to plan a place of your own.
